A check as to the existence and content of a criminal record will be requested from the Criminal Records Bureau after a person has been selected for appointment. Refusal to agree to a check being made could disqualify you from being considered for the appointment.

Under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974, you have the right not to disclose details of 'spent' convictions. However, for certain jobs, employers are allowed to ask about these offences. The Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exception Amendment) Order 1986 sets out details of all jobs to which this applies and the job you have applied for is included in the list.

Please give details of any criminal convictions that you may have. The disclosure of a criminal record may not necessarily prevent you from being appointed. The nature of the offence, how long ago it took place, your age at the time and any other relevant factors may be considered when a decision is made. Please note that some convictions are never considered 'spent' under the terms of the Act.

Please give details of ALL convictions, cautions, reprimands or warnings (whether spent or not).

The Criminal Records Bureau helps employers check records, which were previously held by the police, the Department of Health and the Department for Children, Schools and Families.

Different levels of disclosure can be provided, according to the type of work applied for. The job for which you have applied necessitates an Enhanced disclosure.

Enhanced disclosures are for positions which have contact with children or vulnerable adults. They contain details of all convictions, cautions, reprimands or warnings on record.
